

Energy storage installed capacity in rotterdam the netherlands

Overview

Is the Netherlands a good place to invest in battery energy storage?

The Netherlands offers attractive revenue potential for Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) projects, thanks to a growing share of cheap renewable power sources combined with expensive gas-powered plants, resulting in relatively high price volatility on the electricity markets.

Is pumped hydro storage a viable option in the Netherlands?

Because pumped hydro storage is not an option due to the Netherlands' flat geography, BESS is currently the most suitable choice to increase energy storage capacity in the short term. To date, around 250MW of BESS has been installed in the Netherlands, while 840MW is permitted or under construction and another 690MW has been announced.

Why are batteries so important in the Netherlands?

Batteries are indispensable for the energy transition. Yet the development of battery projects in the Netherlands lags behind that in other countries. This is because batteries in the Netherlands have to pay to take power from the grid.

Who is responsible for battery development in the Netherlands?

Enecogen is responsible for maintenance and operations. The EP NL and Eneco trading departments control the battery. Batteries are indispensable and acceleration is necessary. Batteries are indispensable for the energy transition. Yet the development of battery projects in the Netherlands lags behind that in other countries.
